

NAESP Professional Learning Programs

Build Your Knowledge. Develop Your Skills.
Enhance Your Career.

National Association of Elementary School
Principals

Get Plugged Into These Exciting Professional Learning Programs!

The National Mentor Training and Certification Program offers a highly structured professional learning experience that can make the critical difference in sustainability of skilled leaders. Following completion of the two-day Leadership Immersion Institute, participants may choose to complete the nine-month mentor certification process putting their learning into practice. NAESP hosts mentor trainings in various regions across the US throughout the year as well as contracting with districts and states. For more information and a training site nearest you visit www.naesp.org/mentor.

The National Aspiring Principals Academy is a joint partnership between AASA, The School Superintendents Association, and The National Association of Elementary School Principals (NAESP). This year-long professional learning will directly bolster the effectiveness and preparation of all aspiring school principals across the nation. The Academy follows a cohort model designed to support aspiring principals in acquiring the essential knowledge, skills and practices needed to advance to the next leadership level. Participants will implement learned strategies to address a problem of practice resulting in a Capstone Project capturing their work. Watch for the exciting details of this fall program launch!

NAESP's National Panel of New Principals is the first and only national program dedicated to gathering and sharing the experiences of new principals in rural, urban and suburban schools across the country. Panel participation is open to first and second year principals who are NAESP members. This quality program is completely free, requires a very small time commitment, and provides early career principals valuable resources! Learn more about the panel and enroll at www.newprincipal.org.

The Pre-K-8 Principals Conference is a phenomenal experience for school leaders. Held in different locations across the United States, this event hosts noted speakers on timely topics in the field of leadership and education. In addition to high quality keynotes, attendees take a deep dive into countless thought leader, concurrent, and innovation sessions to strengthen their leadership capacity. Information for this annual "don't miss" opportunity can be found at www.naespconference.org/.

Come as an individual or bring a leadership team to Nashville, TN, September 20-22, 2018 for the Principals of Literacy Institute. Expand expertise as an instructional leader and discover the best ways to develop and implement a strategic, school-wide literacy plan that empowers teachers, families and students. Return with a plan in hand that can be immediately put into action. Visit www.scholastic.com/principalsinstitute to register!

The Principal's Guide to Building Culturally Responsive Schools is an enlightening, newly created publication by Pre-K-8 principals serving on the NAESP Diversity Task Force. This resource shares collective strategies, research, and best practices that enable school leaders to clearly and effectively define and frame actionable recommendations regarding inclusiveness and diversity in a school setting. Find additional information at www.naesp.org/cultureguide.

NAESP, with support from The Mott Foundation, provides an interactive Afterschool and Summer Learning Portal available at no cost to school and program leaders across the nation. This web-based platform features a variety of tools and resources to help develop capacity for integrating quality afterschool and summer learning for children and youth. Peruse the site at <http://afterschool.naesp.org> and find exciting ways to provide diverse learning opportunities to extend learning beyond the school day for students.

With support from the University Council for Educational Administration (UCEA) researchers, NAESP has released its 10-Year Pre-K-8 School Leadership Study. This comprehensive research has been conducted every decade since 1928. In addition to sharing reflections from veteran principals, for the first time, NAESP has included results from Early Career Leaders and Assistant Principals in this informative report. Find additional information at www.naesp.org/pre-k-8-school-leader-2018-10-year-study.

The NAESP Pre-K-3 Leadership Academy provides a unique blended learning experience designed specifically for the Pre-K-3 leader. This cohort-based professional learning opportunity is aligned to the publication Leading Pre-K-3 Learning Communities: Competencies for Effective Principal Practice. Cohorts are provided in state or district settings. Contact leadership@naesp.org for more information regarding this increasingly popular educational program.

Virtual Learning at Your Fingertips

naesp[™] National Association of Elementary School Principals Webinar Wednesdays

Webinar Wednesdays is a monthly member benefit for busy school leaders to learn at their own pace. This real-time platform provides opportunities to learn from content experts on topics that matter most to school leaders. No special equipment, other than Internet access, is needed to participate. Members receive free access to all archived webinar recordings via podcast and video formats. Check out webinars at www.naesp.org/career/webinars.

The first few years of the principalship can be quite challenging and overwhelming. Where does a new principal find valuable information to make the job easier and skillfully develop capacity as a new administrator? NAESP is the "Go To" source for early career principals. Join our quarterly Early Career Principals Webinar Series, designed specifically for the needs of early career principals. Visit www.naesp.org for more information.

One of the most overlooked roles in a school can be the Assistant Principal. With all its demands, it is imperative that administrators stay on the cutting edge to meet the ever changing challenges facing schools and students. Whether a novice or seasoned Assistant/Vice Principal, there's always something to learn. Visit www.naesp.org and begin the journey to expand knowledge in the engaging Assistant Principals Webinar Series. Find quality content that will greatly enhance professional learning to become a more effective leader.

Do your career goals include the principalship? Are you ready to move to the next level? Invest a few minutes of your time and explore the exciting world of school administration through NAESP's quarterly Aspiring Principals Webinar Series. Check out www.naesp.org and trek down the path to learn more about how to land a rewarding career that will impact tomorrow's future, today.