

Being a principal is more
than a profession.
It's a passion.

NAESP
membership nurtures both.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PRINCIPALS
Serving all elementary and middle-level principals

A principal's job
is never done.

Life touch

During school hours, you work tirelessly to support staff and keep your school running smoothly, ensuring a safe and enriching learning environment in which every child can succeed. After dismissal, you're still on the job. Teachers look to you for leadership and guidance. Parents come to you with questions and concerns. Students consider you a role model.

You do it all, and you love it. But even principals require support. NAESP is committed to providing the resources you need to serve your students, school, and community to your fullest potential.

As the ONLY national association dedicated to serving elementary and middle-level principals, our sole purpose is to help you, your students, your teachers, and your school succeed.

We support your profession.

In a world that is litigious and complex, where decisions in Washington D.C. directly impact the quality of your professional and personal life, there's no reason you should go it alone.

- With $2 million of individual professional liability coverage and up to $10,000* for job protection legal counsel, you can relax and do your job without looking over your shoulder.
- We're your greatest advocate in Washington D.C., making sure the interests of principals are at the table, whether it's school funding, evaluation standards, education policy matters, or legislative issues.

We feed your passion.
