THE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL AS LEADER:
GUIDING SCHOOLS TO BETTER
TEACHING AND LEARNING
Shaping a vision of academic success for all students, one based on high standards.

Creating a climate hospitable to education in order that safety, a cooperative spirit and other foundations of fruitful interaction prevail.

Cultivating leadership in others so that teachers and other adults assume their parts in realizing the school vision.

Improving instruction to enable teachers to teach at their best and students to learn to their utmost.

Managing people, data and processes to foster school improvement.

States Loosening 'Seat Time' Requirements

A growing number of states are starting to award academic credit based on what students know—not how much time they spend learning it

By Sean Cavanagh

States have established an array of policies in recent years to free schools from having to award academic credits based on "seat time," with the goal of making it easier for struggling students to catch up, exceptional students to race ahead, and students facing geographic and scheduling barriers to take the courses they need.

Starting the Conversation
Management consists of controlling a group or a set of entities to accomplish a goal. Leadership refers to an individual's ability to influence, motivate, and enable others to contribute toward organizational success. Influence and inspiration separate leaders from managers, not power and control.
