

What Effective Assistant Principals Do to Smooth the Everyday Realities in Schools

November 4, 2020
4:00 – 5:00 p.m. ET

Produced In Partnership with
The Wallace Foundation

AP Moderator Introductions

- Andrew Lindsay, NOAP 2019, is the Assistant Principal at Owen Intermediate School in Michigan

- Equetta Jones, NOAP 2018, is the Assistant Principal at Highlands Elementary School in Delaware.

AP Panelist Introductions

- Kelvin Moore, M.Ed., Instructional Director, Area 2 Middle Schools Office, Prince George's County Public Schools

- Mykia Cadet, Ed.D., NBCT, AP, Ernest Everett Just Middle School, Prince George's County Public Schools

- Jacquelyn Wilson, Ed.D., Director, Delaware Academy for School Leadership/Executive Director, National Policy Board for Educational Leadership

Principal Magazine

Sept/October 2020 Issue

Shared Labor: A leadership team discusses how to “activate” APs to handle the everyday realities of running a school

<https://www.naesp.org/principal-septemberoctober-2020-adapting-change/shared-labor>

Have you read it?

(Use the chat box to respond)

What are the typical roles of the assistant principal, and how have they shifted with virtual learning?

How can APs prepare for the leadership journey?

Are you prepared for the realities of being an AP?

How can assistant principals be better leadership partners?

Questions & Answers

Andrew Lindsay

@MrAndrewLindsay

alindsay@vanburenschools.net

Equetta Jones

@highlandsap

Equetta.Jones@redclay.k12.de.us

APs Rising Listserv

Join the APs Rising Listserv to build an Assistant Principals community of practice. Ask questions, offer tips and strategies, and network with other assistant principals to provide support and inspiration.

<https://www.naesp.org/aps-rising>

Mykia Cadet

@DrMykiaOCadet

mykia.cadet@pgcps.org

Jacquelyn Wilson

@jowilson4139

jowilson@udel.edu

Kelvin Moore

kelvin.moore@pgcps.org

@themooreuknow1