Reach the school decision-makers

naesp™ National Association of Elementary School Principals prin-ci-pal (n.) the chief executive officer of an educational institution.

As the CEOs of their schools, principals seek knowledge to make decisions that affect the bottom line. Principals are always looking for relevant and reliable information to help them run their schools more efficiently. As the No. 1 publication for elementary and middle school principals, Principal gives them just that.

Principal’s editorial platform covers the subjects that are uppermost in principals’ minds: using technology in learning; coping with tight budgets and aging facilities; and training staff. Principal’s departments cover perennial topics of interest such as school law, parent involvement, and the latest research.

Principal’s exposure and influence extend well beyond its circulation of 18,000, including teachers, superintendents, university professors, and school district officials. Let us work with you to implement a marketing program that can deliver the audience and results you need.

Advertising Pays Off
Our members report that Principal is an incredibly valuable resource:

• 52% purchased or recommended the purchase of an advertiser’s products/services after seeing it in Principal.
• 60% have visited an advertiser’s website after seeing its ad in Principal.
• 90% of readers share Principal with other principals, teachers, and administrators.
• Of those, 40% share Principal with 1-2 other educators, another 30% share Principal with 3 or more other educators.

Principals Have the Purchasing Power
Principals make the buying decisions for their schools, and this magazine can help you get your product or service into the hands of the people who are your prime targets. The results of our readership survey reveal that nearly 70% of principals make the final purchasing decisions for their school. Of the remaining respondents, almost 85% indicate they have “a great deal” or “quite a bit” of influence on purchasing decisions for their school.

In particular, our readers report purchasing or having influence in purchasing the following products and services:

- Professional development ...................... 81%
- Professional books .............................. 82%
- Classroom school supplies .................... 75%
- Computers and other technology items ....... 68%

Readers also report purchasing awards, certificates, and recognition services (66%), furniture (54%), audiovisual equipment (52%), computer software (52%), and curriculum programs (50%) in addition to whiteboards, textbooks, school safety programs and equipment, playground equipment, character education programs, and school photography.

Changing Demographics
A new breed of principals, who are earlier in their careers, are seeking solutions to address major issues affecting today’s schools. 40% of NAESP members have been with the association less than five years. They are younger and are more technologically savvy.

Principal, New and Improved
In honor of its 100th anniversary in 2021, NAESP has launched a redesigned Principal, providing a new look and feel to its flagship publication.

The redesign offers a fresh approach to delivering best practices and strategies for today’s leaders in education.
