

Dear NAESP Member,

The Tennessee Principals Association (TPA) Board of Directors is pleased to recommend Dr. Kevin Armstrong as a candidate for NAESP Vice President. He currently serves on the NAESP Board of Directors as the Middle Level Minority Director. Dr. Armstrong has served on the NAESP Board of Directors since 2018.

Dr. Armstrong is currently the Principal of DuPont-Hadley Middle School in Nashville, Tennessee. He has worked in public schools his entire career as a teacher, coach, Assistant Principal and Principal. Dr. Armstrong has served as a mentor to many students, teachers and fellow administrators.

In 2017, Dr. Armstrong was selected as Tennessee's National Distinguished Principal. He was also honored as the Metro Nashville Middle School Principal of the Year in 2017. In the Spring of 2018, Dr. Armstrong was featured in an article in Principal Magazine. He is an accomplished writer and speaker.

Dr. Armstrong is an advocate for NAESP and TPA and believes in the power of the association serving principals across America. While serving at the national level, Dr. Armstrong has been a "voice at the Board table" in creating a platform to ensure that diversity and equity are an integral part in moving NAESP forward. He also serves as a Fellow for the Center for Advancing Leadership and a co-leader for the Center for Middle Level Leadership with NAESP. At the state level, Dr. Armstrong has diligently worked to promote membership among middle level administrators in Nashville.

Dr. Kevin Armstrong desires to continue to serve and lead at the national level. His qualifications and experience make him an excellent choice as a candidate for NAESP Vice President. Please feel free to contact me if you need additional information.

Sincerely,

Nancy Flatt Meador

Nancy Flatt Meador, Ed.D.
Executive Director, Tennessee
NAESP President 2013-2014